KPMG

Bulletin

Dear Sir / Madam,

We present to you the fifty-eigth edition of our Software Licensing Bulletin, which highlights details on Autodesk ® Education Licensing.

Subscription based licensing will provide the end customer economical options long with efficient inventory management.

What has changed ?

- Following are changes brought around the terminology :

Former	Present Term
Desktop Subscription or Cloud Service Subscription	Subscription with Single-User access
Network Subscription	Subscription with Multi-User access
Maintenance Subscription	Maintenance Plan

- The option to cross grade to any of the affected products was discontinued when Autodesk stopped selling new perpetual licences.

- With subscription based licensing, subscribers receive Global Travel Rights, Preceding Version Rights and access to the latest software and enhancements and support.

What has not changed?

- Existing perpetual licences are still valid. One retains the perpetual software licence and can continue to use it in accordance with their perpetual licence agreement.
- If one is currently covered under maintenance for the perpetual license, they may continue to renew that plan for as long as they want.

We hope the bulletin was informative. We would be happy to arrange for any additional information that you may require on the subject. Please write to us at in-fmkpmgccsbulletin@kpmg.com, for any queries or feedback.
