Reduction / non-assessment of (corporate) income tax advance payments 2020:

— If a taxpayer can credibly state that he is affected by coronavirus (COVID-19) infections, advance payments for (corporate) income tax 2020 may be reduced even to zero as the case may be. This will be the relevant in industries in which a significant economic decline due to the current situation is expected. Applications can be submitted until October 31, 2020

Deferral of payment and payment instalments:

- The taxpayer can apply to his tax office for deferral of payment of a tax or to pay the tax in instalments. Such applications lie in the discretion of the tax office which must, however, strongly consider the situation triggered by the SARS-CoV-2 virus. According to the wording of the published information this possibility is not restricted to specific taxes. Applications for deferral or payment in instalments may also be possible for all taxes, for instance also for advance VAT payments, but needs to be confirmed
- Until an application for deferral is answered by the tax office, there is no payment obligation and no collection measures may be taken by the tax authorities.

Customs/Import and Other Miscellaneous Taxes

The Austrian government in a draft bill has proposed that no stamp tax (duties) would be levied on any documents directly or indirectly related to any measures required to deal with the coronavirus crisis.

Filing/Payment Deadline Extension

Upon request and based on specific impact of the virus on the particular situation:

- Tax prepayments for individual and corporate income tax
- purposes may be reduced to zero upon request.
- Late payment penalties may be reduced or waived upon request.
- Tax authorities may defer taxes if their collection would lead to significant hardship or agree to payments in instalments.

Suspension of Tax Audits

— The Austrian government in a draft bill has proposed measures that would extend all the deadlines for appeals to May 1, 2020, in cases for which the statutory periods were opened on March 16, 2020 or that commenced on or after March 16, 2020.

Sectorial support measures

— Austria is introducing support measures for sectors heavily affected by the outbreak, such as tourism and air transportation, and uses existing measures to reduce hours worked (Kurzarbeit). EUR 100 million are available for loans to hotels that suffer more than 15% losses in sales.⁵¹ The maximum is 80% of the loan or EUR 500 000.

Loan guarantees

— The Austria Wirtschaft service (AWS) is providing new guarantees for SMEs worth EUR 10 million up to 80% of the loan amount or EUR 2,5 million for 5 years.⁵² The guarantees will have a one-time processing fee starting with 0.25 % of the amount to be financed and a guarantee fee, starting with 0.3 % p.a. (variable to risk) of outstanding liability.

Crisis management fund

— On 15 March, a COVID-19 crisis management fund was announced, with EUR 4 billion in funding.⁵⁴ On 18 March, a further EUR 38 billion support fund was announced. The measures include:

- EUR 9 billion in guarantees and warranties;

Relief measures mitigating the adverse impact of the outbreak on the business

- The government is considering various relief measures aimed at supporting the business in these challenging times. For the time being, it is not known for certainty which measures will be actually adopted. It is still not clear whether and in what cases sanctions and penalty interest for delays will be waived.
- The only formal proposal made by the government into the Parliament so far which may have VAT implications concerns the terms under pending court and administrative procedures. As per the proposed measure, these terms will be suspended for the duration of the emergency state. If this measure is approved by the Bulgarian Parliament it will have an impact for control procedures such as tax audits, tax checks, appeals of tax assessment acts, etc.

The Croatian government on 17 March 2020 proposed certain tax relief measures to mitigate the effects caused by the coronavirus (COVID-19) epidemic. The proposed amendments are pending parliamentary consideration, but it is not expected that the proposed amendments would be substantially changed during this process. Among the tax relief measures, are provisions that would:

- Amounts received by individuals and companies as grants to mitigate the special circumstances caused by the coronavirus would not be considered taxable for individual income tax or corporate profit tax purposes
- Refunds of assessed individual (personal) income tax and city surtax would be paid to the taxpayer upon issuance of the relevant tax assessment (with no change to the deadline for the right to file an objection), while the deadline for payment of any assessed individual income tax and city surtax liabilities remains unchanged
- Allow taxpayers to defer payment or to arrange an instalment payment plan for their tax liabilities, social security contributions and certain non-tax levies without being subject to interest being imposed during the period of deferral of payment (payments in instalments) (this would not start the statute of limitations) for a period of three months, which can be extended. Thereafter, payments can be made in instalments of 24 months;
- Measures for financial liquidity including a three-month moratorium on liabilities to the Croatian Bank for Reconstruction and Development (HBOR) and commercial banks, as well as the approval of loans for cash flow in order to pay wages, suppliers and to reschedule other liabilities;
- The approval of new loans for liquidity for enterprises to finance wages, utility costs and other basic business operating costs;
- Increasing of the allocation for the 'ESIF micro loans' for working capital for micro and small enterprises implemented by the Agency for SMEs, Innovation and Investments (HAMAG-BICRO);
- A new financial instrument "COVID-19 loans" for working capital for small and medium-sized enterprises.

There is currently no extension of the deadlines for filing of tax returns or other returns.

France (2/13)

1. Time limits for the payment of social and/or fiscal instalments and direct tax rebates (continued)

Postponement of social deadlines

- Possible staggering for due maturities and not on future recoveries.
- Exceptional discounts of surcharges and penalties for late payment over the targeted periods possible
- The later the application is made, the more eligible social security contributions will be included in the scheme
- Employers (companies with more than 50 employees) whose URSSAF due date falls on the 5th of the month may defer all or part of the payment of their employee and employer contributions for the due date of 5 April 2020. The date of payment of these contributions may be postponed for up to 3 months: information will be provided later on. No penalty will be applied.
- Employers can modulate their payment according to their needs: amount to 0, or amount corresponding to a part of the contributions.
- It is nevertheless imperative to declare and therefore transmit the nominative social declaration (NSD) before Monday 6 April 12:00 noon.
- First case - the employer pays his contributions outside the NSD, by bank transfer: he can adapt the amount of his transfer, or not make a transfer at all.
- Second case - the employer pays his contributions via the NSD: he must transmit the March 2020 NSD by Monday 6 April 2020 at 12:00 noon, and can modulate his SEPA payment within this NSD.

A postponement or a delay agreement is also possible for supplementary pension contributions. Employers are invited to contact their supplementary pension institution.

2. Time limits for the payment of social and/or fiscal instalments and direct tax rebates (continued)

CCFC (committee of chief financial officers) and payment terms

- The French government is encouraging companies experiencing financial difficulties with payment delays in order to pay their tax and social security debts (employers' share) to refer the matter to The Financial Sector Advisory Committee (CCFC).
 - The debts referred to are in particular the taxes, social security contributions to the basic compulsory schemes payable - excluding employee shares and withholding tax.
 - There is no minimum or maximum amount.
 - Normally, the CCFC of the department of the company's registered office or principal place of business is competent.
 - The commission examines, in conjunction with each accountant or body responsible for the collection of public debts, the establishment of a payment plan spread over several months for the settlement of the debtor's debts. It then lays down the conditions for this plan.
 - In order to benefit from the settlement of the above-mentioned debts, the debtor must (theoretically) be up to date with the filing of his tax and social security declarations and the payment of employee contributions and withholding tax.
- The request to the French CCFC (of the department concerned) can be made in two ways (KPMG's business recommendations): By the debtor: for debt requests up to €0.5m By an ad hoc representative (appointed beforehand by the debtor): for debt requests over €0.5m
 - In fact, each public accountant or body responsible for the collection of public debts must ensure collection from its own funds and therefore could be more restrictive in terms of the basis of application, penalties, requests for security... The appointment of an ad hoc agent then allows the accounting officer or body responsible for recovery to legitimise its recovery plan by the existence of a judicial mandate.

- At the end of the first year, the company may decide to amortize the loan over a further 1, 2, 3, 4 or 5 years.
- This cash loan may cover up to three months of sales up to a maximum of 25% of sales excluding VAT in 2019 (i.e. the equivalent of one quarter of activity), or of the last financial year ended. As an exception, for newly created or innovative companies, this ceiling is set at 2 years of payroll.

- The cost of the loan will be made up of each bank's own financing cost (interest rate), without margin, plus the cost of the State guarantee.
- The step to be taken by an interested company is to get closer to its bank. The bank will examine the company's application. After having obtained a preliminary agreement from the bank, the company will have to take steps on the Bpifrance site in order to finalize the signature of the loan. After confirmation from the BPI, the bank will grant the loan.

4. Simplified and reinforced short-time working scheme / FNE Training

Partial unemployment

- The partial activity scheme may be requested by companies in exceptional circumstances.
- As the employment contract is suspended, employees receive a compensatory indemnity paid by their employer. This indemnity must correspond to at least 70% of the gross previous remuneration. This indemnity is increased to 100% of previous net remuneration in the event of training.
- Decree n°2020-325 of 25/3/2020 stipulates that the employer benefits from a partial activity allowance, the hourly rate of which is equal for each employee concerned to 70% of the gross hourly remuneration limited to 4.5 times the hourly rate of the minimum interprofessional growth wage.
- This hourly rate may not be less than 8.03 euros.
- This minimum is not applicable in the cases mentioned in the third paragraph of Article R. 5122-18 of the French Labour Code (100% compensation in case of training).
- The provisions of the decree apply to claims for compensation addressed or renewed to the Services and Payment Agency as of the date of entry into force of the decree (i.e. March 26, 2020), in respect of the placement of employees in partial employment since March 1, 2020.
- It should be noted that this payment is limited to 1,000 hours per year and per employee, regardless of the professional branch.
- The request for partial activity and the opening of the file is made directly online on the dedicated website (<https://activitepartielle.emploi.gouv.fr/aparts/>).
- The employer must consult in advance with the employee representatives (ESCs or employee delegates). Decree n°2020-325 of 25 March 2020 provides that this opinion may be collected after the request for partial activity and transmitted within a maximum of two months from the date of the request.
- In the absence of an IORP, companies must inform their employees directly of the plan to start partial operations.
- The server of the Services and Payment Agency (SPA) accessible to employers to proceed with their request for partial activity is facing an exceptional influx which leads to making the site difficult to access.
- In order not to penalise companies, Decree n°2020-325 of 25 March 2020 provides that the employer may send its request within 30 days of placing employees in partial activity when the request is justified by exceptional circumstances.
- Faced with the influx of requests, the labour administration has recalled since 19 March that requests to benefit from the partial activity scheme must comply with the provisions of articles L 5122-1 of the C. Trav et seq. and that the requests will be subject to a control.
- In particular, it was recalled that:
 - No request for partial activity will be authorized for companies wishing to close down preventively.
 - If the application is renewed, the company will have to enter into commitments concerning employees

Eligible cases:

- Administrative closure of an establishment
- Prohibition of public demonstrations following an administrative decision
- (Massive) absence of employees essential to the company's activity
- Temporary interruption of non-essential activities
- Suspension of public transport by administrative decision
- Decrease in activity related to the epidemic

The draft decree would also open the benefit of the partial activity to employees with a fixed-rate executive package, including when there is no total closure of the establishment. The terms and conditions and the calculation of the coverage are not yet known and will be specified by ordinance.

4. Simplified and reinforced short-time working scheme / FNE Training (continued)

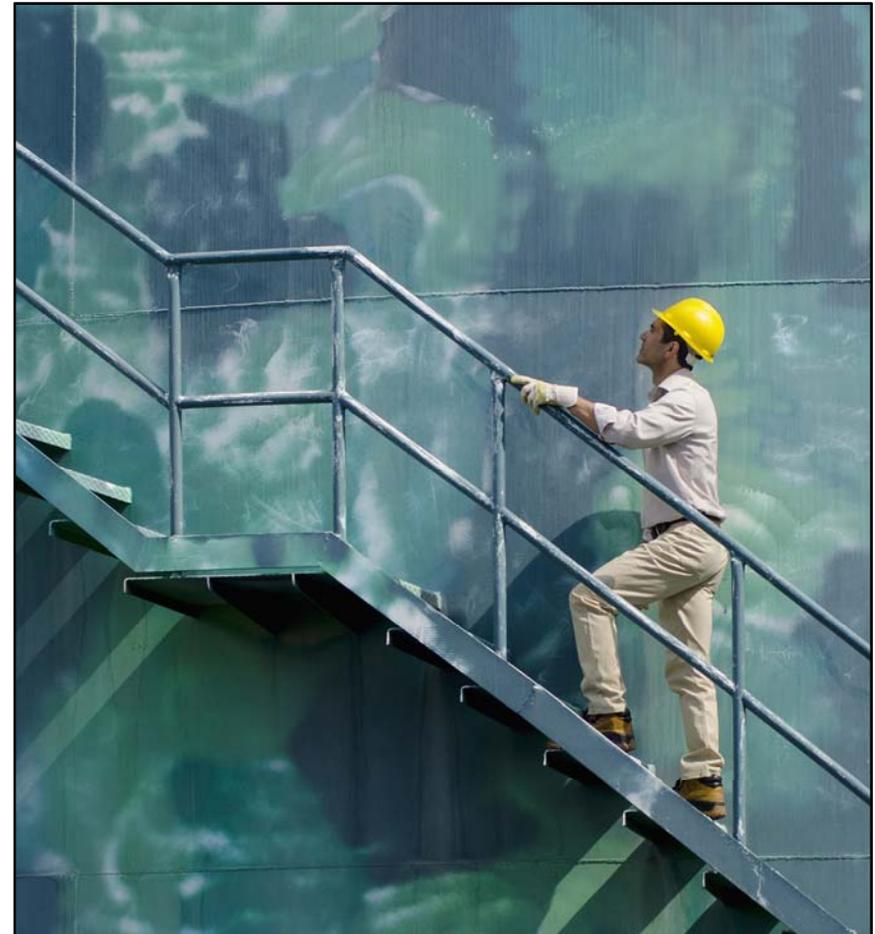

Faced with the consequences of the Coronavirus on companies, Mrs Muriel Penicaud recalled that training is the solution to be favoured over unemployment or redundancy.

The Ministry of Labour has recalled that companies that see their activity reduced or suspended have the possibility of having recourse to the partial activity mechanism (Article R.5122-1 of the Labour Code). However, in the event of prolonged under-activity or total cessation of activity, companies may choose to provide their employees with FNE training in order to enable them to acquire useful skills when resuming their activity.

In case of partial activity, the employment contract is suspended and the employees receive an indemnity paid by the company corresponding to 70% of the gross salary. If the company provides training, the compensation is 100% of the net remuneration.

FNE agreements are concluded between the DIRECCTE and the company or an OPCO.

- Coverage by the State: If it is the sole public funder, the State may grant aid of up to 50% of eligible costs, or even 70% in the event of an increase under an FNE agreement.
- The companies concerned:
 - FNE training is aimed primarily at companies or groups of employers with fewer than 250 employees;
 - The employees concerned by this scheme are those at risk of losing their job or those with low qualifications in relation to the labour market in their employment area (note that managers are not excluded from this scheme).

 - Information about the company / organisation;
 - Subject-matter of the dispute;
 - Information on the party causing the difficulties
- Website: <https://www.mieist.bercy.gouv.fr>

1. Making reduced hours compensation benefit (Kurzarbeitergeld) more flexible:

By the beginning of April, the rules on reduced hours compensation benefit will be adapted. As part of this, eligibility requirements will be loosened:

- Companies may receive reduced hour compensation when only 10% of the employees of the company are affected by shorter working hours (i.e.: don't have any more work to do), until now 1/3 of the employees had to be affected by shorter working hours in order for the company to get reduced hour compensation.
- Waiver of negative working hours: Until now, a reduction in working hours had to be compensated first by using certain types of working time credits. It was also necessary to first grant paid holidays. It is not necessary anymore. Partial or complete waiver of the need to build up a negative balance in working hours means that there is no longer any need for employees to build up a negative balance in their respective working accounts.
- Reduced hours compensation benefit will also be available to temporary/agency workers,
- Complete reimbursement of social security contributions by the Federal Labour Office.
- By the beginning of April, the rules on reduced hours compensation benefit will be adaptive. As part of this, eligibility requirements will be loosened
- Reduction of the minimum ratio of the employees in a company affected by shorter working hours to 10%,

2. Tax-related liquidity assistance for businesses:

- Revenue authorities will be able to defer taxes if their collection would lead to significant difficult financial situation for a company. This not being clearly defined and provides leeway for companies to ask for a postponement without incurring in penalties. The revenue authorities will be instructed to not impose strict conditions in this respect. This will support taxpayers' liquidity because the timing of tax payments will be delayed.
- As soon as it becomes clear that a taxpayer's income in the current year is expected to be lower than in the previous year, tax prepayments will be reduced in a straightforward manner. This will improve the liquidity situation of companies.
- Enforcement measures (e.g. direct debit into bank accounts) and late-payment penalties will be waived until 31 December 2020 if the debtor of a pending tax payment is directly affected by the coronavirus.

With regard to taxes that are administered by the customs administration (e.g. energy duty and aviation tax), the Central Customs Authority (Generalzollverwaltung) has been instructed to make appropriate concessions to taxpayers. The same applies to the Federal Central Tax Office (Bundeszentralamt für Steuern), which will proceed accordingly with regard to insurance tax and value added tax, which fall within its remit. More details will be given in the following days by the German Finance Minister.

Other Tax relief

- Applications for a reduction of the trade tax base, for purposes of advance payments, can be submitted until 31 December 2020. A corresponding period for deferral applications and applications for adjustment of advance payments for income and corporation tax is also available.
- The tax authorities may defer taxes if the collection would constitute a significant hardship. Taxpayers may submit applications until 31 December 2020 for deferral of taxes already due or becoming due by that date.
- Tax deferrals are to be granted without interest.
- Advance payments of income tax, corporate income tax, and trade tax may be made "on presentation of circumstances" by taxpayers that can show they are "directly and not inconsiderably affected" by COVID-19.

Germany (3/6)

- The next advance payments dates are 10 June 2020 for income tax and corporate tax, and 15 May 2020 for trade tax.
- It may be possible to reduce advance tax payments “retroactively” but needs to be confirmed

3. A protective shield worth billions for businesses (1/2)

The German government will protect businesses with new measures to provide liquidity, the volume of which is unlimited.

Existing liquidity assistance programs will be expanded to make it easier for companies to access cheap loans. This can mobilise a large volume of liquidity-enhancing loans from commercial banks. To this end, established instruments complementing loans offered by private banks will be extended and made available to a greater number of companies:

- Conditions for the KfW-Unternehmerkredit (business loan for existing companies) and the ERP-Gründerkredit-Universell (start-up loan for companies that are less than 5 years old) will be loosened by raising the level of risk assumptions (indemnity) for operating loans and extending these instruments to large enterprises with a turnover of up to €2 billion (previously, the limit was €500 million). Higher risk assumptions of up to 80% for operating loans of up to €200 million will increase banks’ willingness to extend credit.
- In the case of the “KfW Loan for Growth”, the program aimed at larger companies, the current turnover threshold of €2 billion will be raised to €5 billion. In future, these loans will take the form of syndicated loans and will not be restricted to projects in one particular field (in the past, only innovation and digitalisation projects were eligible). Risk assumption will be increased to up to 70% (from 50%). This will improve larger companies’ access to syndicated loans
- KfW’s role in this crisis is to facilitate the short-term supply of liquidity to companies. The KfW, formerly KfW Bankengruppe (banking group), is a German state-owned development bank, based in Frankfurt. Its name originally comes from Kreditanstalt für Wiederaufbau (“Credit Institute for Reconstruction”). It was formed in 1948 after World War II as part of the Marshall Plan.

3. A protective shield worth billions for businesses (2/2)

- For guarantee banks (Bürgschaftsbanken), the guarantee limit will be doubled, to €2.5 million. The Federation will increase its risk share in guarantee banks by 10% to make it easier to shoulder risks, which are difficult to assess in times of crisis. The upper limit of 35% of operating resources in guarantee banks' total exposure will be increased to 50%. To accelerate liquidity provision, the Federation is giving guarantee banks the freedom to make guarantee decisions up to €250,000 independently and within a period of three days.
- The large guarantee program (parallel guarantees from the Federation ("Bund") and the regions ("Länder"), which was previously limited to companies in structurally weak regions, will be opened to companies of other regions as well. In this program, the Federation covers operating loans and investments with a surety requirement upwards of €50 million and a guarantee rate of up to 80%.
- For companies that are facing temporary but serious financial difficulties because of the crisis and therefore do not have easy access to existing support programs, additional special KfW programs will be launched. This will be achieved by increasing the KfW's risk tolerance in a way that is appropriate given the crisis. Risk assumptions for investment funds (indemnity) will be improved significantly and will total up to 80% in the case of operating resources and up to 90% in the case of investments. In addition, consortium structures will be offered for these companies.

Law on the Prevention and Control of Infectious Disease

- In the event of illness or a justified suspicion of illness, whereby the employee is quarantined, the employer is obliged under the Continued Remuneration Act to continue to pay the employee his regular salary for up to six weeks. At the beginning of the seventh week, sickness benefit at the regular rate of 70% of the original wage is paid by the health insurance company.
- Even in the case of an illness or the justified suspicion of an illness which falls within the scope of application of the Law on Prevention and Control of Infectious Disease, this general regulation remains in force. However, the employer will be reimbursed the wages paid in the first six weeks by the competent authority on application. In the seventh week, the sickness insurance fund pays the wage, which may in turn request reimbursement from the competent authority.
- In contrast to the continued remuneration, self-employed workers and freelancers are also entitled to compensation. According to the Law on Prevention and Control of Infectious Disease they can apply to the competent authority for financial reimbursement in the amount of their loss of earnings

The employment-related measures are included in two legislative decrees as guidance providing relief in response to the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic

Companies whose operations have been suspended by virtue of a state order

— The support measures for the employees of companies in this category are as follows:

- As of 18 March 2020 and for as long as the emergency measures are in force, dismissals are forbidden whereas any dismissals in violation of the restriction in question are invalid.
- Employees are entitled to collect a special purpose indemnity to the amount of EUR 800 burdening the State Budget.

— Further, specific obligations are imposed on the employer in order for their employees to collect the special purpose indemnity (filing of a Statutory Declaration with the Information System ERGANI for the eligible employees and notification of the above filing and its filing number – in writing or by electronic means – on the same day to the employee)

Affected Companies on the basis of Professional Activity Code (KAA)

— Within one month from the publication of the Legislative Decree dated 20 March 2020 which can be extended by virtue of a Ministerial Decision, companies falling in this category can suspend their employees' employment agreements (all employees or part thereof).

Other employment relations' regulations

- Employers whose activity is significantly affected or whose activity has been restricted can transfer personnel between companies of the same Group, on the basis of a mutual agreement and on the condition that the total number of employees employed before the transfer is not reduced. The details for the application of the provision in question are anticipated to be set out in Ministerial Decisions.

 - Each employee can be occupied at least 2 weeks on a monthly basis (continuously or intermittently) and
 - The above organization of work is made on a weekly basis and covers at least 50% of the company’s personnel.
- Employers that wish to benefit from the above possibility must not reduce the number of employees working for the company at the time the above system has been implemented and proceed with the required notifications with the Information System ERGANI. The details for the application of the provision in question are anticipated to be set out in a Ministerial Decision.
- The granting of the special purpose leave provided for in the Legislative Decree dated 11 March 2020 to parents employees of certain companies (companies engaged in the sectors of energy and water supply burdened with the continuous supply of the country with electricity, gas, liquid fuel and water, companies engaged in the production, transport and supply of goods, fuel, medicines and paramedical supplies to shops/companies selling the goods in question) is conditional upon a justified opinion of the companies’ management on the basis of the applicants’ position and duties.
- Employers who have exhausted the applicable limits of overtime occupation can continue to occupy their employees’ overtime without the approval of the Minister of Employer on the basis of an opinion of the Supreme Work Council under conditions.
- Certain companies can extraordinarily and temporarily supersede the restriction of Sunday and public holidays work under conditions.
- Both possibilities above are valid for a period of up to six (6) months from the entry in force of the Legislative Decree dated 14 March 2020.

Tax relief in response to coronavirus (COVID-19)

Considering recent events, the Icelandic government is working on getting the necessary legislative amendments passed by the Icelandic Parliament.

The Icelandic Parliament on 13 March 2020 passed legislation that provides for the postponement of tax payments.

- Postponement of the payment deadline for part of the social security tax to 15 April 2020. Legal entities are permitted to postpone the payment of half of the social security tax, that was originally due on 16 March 2020 to 15 April 2020.
- Postponement of the payment deadline for part of the public levies on source to 15 April 2020. Legal entities are permitted to postpone the payment of half of the public levies on source, that was originally due on 16 March 2020 to 15 April 2020.
- No penalty or surcharge on account of the late payments. The penalty or surcharge will not be imposed with regard to partial payments, provided that full payment is made by 15 April 2020.

The Icelandic government indicated there will be further action in the coming days in order to respond to the many challenges presented by the COVID-19 outbreak.

Act on temporary payments to individuals due to loss of income from being quarantined without signs of being infected

- Employees who are quarantined will get paid a salary. In such cases where an employee is quarantined but does not have the right to a salary from their employer during the quarantine, the government shall pay the employee his salary.
- The goal of the new Act is to allow individuals to follow the commands of the public health authorities without worrying about loss of income.
- The bill only applies to the private employment market. As the bill only applies to employers, employees and independently employed individuals on the private employment market it is estimated that it will apply to approximately 140,000 individuals, or a total of 75% of the total employment market.
- The aid is conditional. The bill states that certain conditions must be met, for instance the employer of the quarantined employee must be able to prove that he has paid the employee's salary during the active period (1 February 2020 – 30 April 2020).
- Salary cap. The bill states that a cap will be put on government payments, the payments may not exceed 633.000 krona per employee, per calendar month.

Iceland (2/2)

Increased right to unemployment benefits for part-time employees

The Minister of Social Affairs and Children has submitted another bill to Parliament regarding changes to the Act on Unemployment Insurance and the Act on Wage Guarantee Fund. The bill's objective is to assist companies in maintaining their employees until the economic difficulties associated with COVID-19 dissolved. The proposed amendments of the bill are thus temporary.

Companies experiencing temporary operating difficulties are encouraged to exercise the option to temporarily downgrade full-time employees to part-time employees rather than terminating the contract of employment. It is of great value to society that as many people as possible maintain their employment.

Should the bill be enacted into law it will carry the following changes:

- Individuals who are downgraded to part-time employment could have certain rights to unemployment benefits. These benefits would amount to the proportional loss of income of the employee after he was downgraded to part-time. The conditions of these benefits are that the employee's employment rate must have been reduced by at least 20% and that the employee maintains at least a 50% employment rate.

Further action to be announced

The Icelandic government will be announcing further action in the coming days in order to respond to the many challenges presented by the COVID-19 outbreak. The government approved a 7-point plan on 10 March on actions against the COVID-19 outbreak effects.

The Central Bank lowered the policy rate by 50 basis points to 2.25%, the sixth reduction within 10 months.

Irish Revenue announced certain tax relief measures designed to help support small and medium businesses (SMEs) experiencing cash-flow and trading difficulties as a result of the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic.

The relief concerns value added tax (VAT) and “pay as you earn” (PAYE) obligations, such as:

- Interest on late payments of January and February VAT and both February and March PAYE liabilities are to be suspended.
- All tax enforcement activity will be suspended until further notice.
- Irish Revenue also announced that the planned “relevant contracts tax” (RCT) scheduled for March 2020 is suspended. RCT is a withholding tax that applies to certain payments by principal contractors to subcontractors in the construction, forestry, and meat-processing industries, at rates of tax of 0%, 20%, and 35%.

Irish Revenue announced that critical pharmaceutical products and medicines will be given “green routing” status for customs purposes in order to provide for an uninterrupted importation and supply process.

Filing/Payment Deadline Extension

- The current tax clearance status will remain in place for all businesses over the coming months

The Irish government on 24 March 2020 announced measures to provide financial support to Irish workers and companies affected by the coronavirus (COVID-19) crisis.

The measures include a temporary COVID-19 wage subsidy scheme that provides, for 12 weeks, a program focused on assisting employers with employees who were laid off without pay. The key features of the scheme include:

- Initially, and from Thursday 26 March 2020, the subsidy scheme will refund employers up to a maximum of €410 per each qualifying employee. However, employers should pay no more than the normal take home pay of the employee.
- From April 2020, the scheme will move to a subsidy payment based on 70% of the weekly average take home pay for each employee up to a maximum payment of €410. Revenue is to issue further detailed guidance on the calculation of the subsidy amount for different employee earning levels.
- Employee Pay Related Social Insurance (PRSI) will not apply to the subsidy amount and employer PRSI will apply at a rate of 0.5%.

It plans to reallocate EU investment funds to health, employment and business, accelerate the use of public budget funds for running costs, to use all funds from the Climate Change and Road Maintenance and Development Programs and to accelerate renovation of apartment buildings.

In relation to the outbreak of the COVID-19 virus, the Lithuanian Government and the Tax authorities will apply certain tax related measures to assist tax payers with their ongoing obligations.

Direct taxes

- Companies and self-employed individuals that realise income from a profession, or commercial or agricultural activities can request help if they are facing liquidity issues due to COVID-19. Eligible taxpayers can file a request for: (1) cancellation (annulation) of the first and second quarterly advance payments for both (corporate) income tax and municipal business tax for 2020; and (2) a four-month extension to the deadline for the payment of (corporate) income, municipal business and net wealth taxes due after 29 February 2020, without any penalty for late payment. The tax authorities will automatically approve all eligible requests.
- Furthermore, the authorities have extended the deadline to file both corporate and individual (personal) income tax returns to 30 June 2020

VAT

- We expect to see the government pass measures to support enterprises, artists and freelancers very quickly. Among the soon-to-be released measures, the Luxembourg VAT authorities may extend the deadlines for submission of VAT returns and payment extensions. VAT credits below EUR10,000 should be reimbursed as from this week. Until new measures have been passed, the Luxembourg VAT authorities' have asked companies to communicate with them electronically, in so far as is possible.

To help SMEs

- The Luxembourg Ministry for the Economy has set-up a hotline and website with information for enterprises, which includes a FAQ on existing measures for companies, including SMEs (financial support and partial employment).
- The government emphasised that SMEs experience more challenges related to liquidity than large companies as a result of such events. The granting of aid through the bill is subject to three conditions:
 - That an event has been recognised as having a harmful impact on the economic activity of certain undertakings during a given period;
 - That the company is experiencing temporary financial difficulties, and;
 - That there is a causal link between these difficulties and the event in question.

- The Cabinet on 17 March 2020 announced additional measures to support Dutch employees, self-employed individuals, and the Dutch business community facing challenges from the coronavirus.
- The new measures reflect a deferral for paying taxes including energy tax and the levying of sustainable energy storage (ODE) for companies in the second, third and fourth tax bracket.
- Beginning 23 March 2020, the Cabinet will temporarily reduce the “collection interest” for all tax debts from 4% to 0.01%. Recovery interest is normally due if an assessment is not paid on time (from the time that the payment term has expired). The Cabinet also has reduced the tax rate for all taxes to which it applies, from 8% (corporate tax) and 4% (other taxes) to 0.01%.
- To support SMEs hit by the crisis via the opening-up of the guarantee instrument for SMEs (BBMKB) for those affected by the outbreak, which according to the government would directly provide EUR 300 million extra credit for SMEs
- Tax interest is payable if an assessment cannot be determined in time, for example because the tax return is not submitted on time or for the correct amount. The decrease to 0.01% is also temporary in nature and will take effect from 1 June 2020, with the exception of income tax: an effective date of 1 July 2020 applies.
- The tax administration will reverse assessments of a default penalty for a failure to pay tax (on time).
- Concerning a reduction of the provisional assessment, requests for reduction in connection with the coronavirus will be granted by the tax authorities. If an entrepreneur has already (partially) paid the provisional assessment and the amount of the new provisional assessment is lower, the difference will be paid to the entrepreneur.

Deferral of tax payments for 3 months related to coronavirus (COVID-19):

The Deputy Minister of Finance on 19 March 2020 informed the Lower House that every business that is facing financial difficulties as a result of the coronavirus (COVID-19) crisis will be eligible for a deferral of payment with regard to their tax debts (payments of tax).

Taxpayers need to submit a written request for the deferral of tax payments to the Dutch Tax and Customs Administration

As soon as the business has filed the request, the Dutch tax authorities will hold off on collecting corporate income tax, payroll tax, value added tax (VAT), and individual (personal) income tax. The tax collection deferral will apply, in principle and automatically, for a period of three months.

Deferral of more than three months

- Additional information is required for requests of tax deferrals for periods of longer than three months (according to the website of the Dutch tax administration, the additional information may be a statement from an “expert” third party) in order to assess whether the financial difficulties are mainly caused by the coronavirus crisis. Businesses can use the first three months of tax deferral to provide this information.
- The government is currently considering what information will be necessary and how this can be provided as simply as possible. This aim is to limit the administrative burden for businesses as much as possible.

Business Income Tax

- If businesses expect to incur a loss for the 2020 financial year, whether or not due to the corona crisis, taxpayers may file a tax return immediately after the end of the financial year and request that this loss is provisionally set off against the profit for 2019 (as set by assessment) (provisional carry-back). Of the reported loss, 80% will be taken into account. The tax payable/paid for the 2019 financial year can then be either partly or fully reduced/refunded.

Filing/Payment Deadline Extension

No default penalty

- The tax administration will not impose or will reverse a default penalty assessment that has been imposed for non- payment of tax or late payment of tax.

Decrease provisional assessment

- If a provisional assessment has been imposed during the financial year, and it appears that the taxable profit will be lower than the profit estimated for the provisional assessment, a reduction of the provisional assessment can be requested (thus improving cash-flow since less tax will have to be paid immediately).
- The government has indicated that any requests for reduction in connection with the coronavirus will be granted by the tax authorities.

VAT refunds

- If the taxpayer’s customers are not able to pay their debts due to the coronavirus, then VAT paid in this regard can be reclaimed under certain conditions.

The Government offers a link to informs people

- The Netherlands Enterprise agency offers a link with a FAQ section. It contains health-related information, but also information for employers on shortening working hours.
- Overall information provision to companies on the outbreak takes place via Chambers of Commerce.

Measures for economic support

- Temporary measure for compensation of wage costs for companies. Companies expecting a drop in value added (minimum 20%) can ask for a compensation of 90% of costs, 80% can be given as an advance;
- Additional measures to support self-employed, who can get non reimbursable income support for three months through a fast track procedure, or a low interest loan for working capital;
- Enlargement of the Guarantee Entrepreneurs finance measure (GO) for SMEs and larger firms, by raising the guarantee ceiling from EUR 400 million to EUR 1.5 billion. GO provides a 50% guarantee on bank loan and bank guarantees (minimum EUR 1.5 million, maximum raised to EUR 150 million);
- Small firms are offered a six month delay in repayments of micro loans through credits, with lowered interest rates to 2%;
- Temporary opening of BMKB guarantee instrument for agricultural and horticultural companies, and;
- Compensation for sectors especially affected by the outbreak.

The government will establish two state-backed loan and guarantee schemes in the total amount of NOK 100 billion (approximately U.S. $10 billion) in an effort to provide liquidity for Norwegian enterprises.

Direct and indirect tax measures

- Tax relief for companies that carry back losses for that year against the two previous years' taxable profits. The tax value (22%) of the allowed carry back will be automatically paid out as part of the ordinary tax statement in 2021.
- Postponement of the second instalment of advance tax payment for companies until September 1st (originally due 15 April)
- VAT reduced from 12% to 8% from 20 March 2020 to 31 October 2020.
- Sales subject to the VAT low rate of 8% include passenger transport, overnight lodging, public broadcasting, access to cinema, museums, amusement parks and major sporting events.
- Low rates mean that the tax must be calculated at a rate of 12% VAT on sales, while deducting VAT on acquisitions for use in the business is normally 25%.
- The tax return for VAT for the first VAT period (January and February 2020) would be filed on 10 April 2020 (actually due on 14 April 2020, which is the first business day after the deadline for delivery of the VAT return). The deadline for paying VAT for the first ordinary VAT period in 2020 would be 10 June 2020.
- Extension of time for traders and certain other business owners to make the first instalment of advance payment of tax for 2020 would be provided to 1 May 2020 (from 15 March 2020).
- Owners of loss-making companies in 2020 could postpone payments of net wealth tax in respect of the value of the companies. This measure is intended to reduce the need for, among others, family-owned businesses to distribute dividends to owners to cover the wealth tax.
- The number of days employers are obliged to pay salaries to workers in case of temporary lay-offs would be reduced from 15 to two days. The intention is for this temporary measure to improve employers' liquidity and help avoid massive lay-offs
- A measure would suspend the tax on air passengers for flights from 1 January 2020 until 31 October 2020
- The proposal would allow the deduction of losses incurred in 2020 by filing an amended corporate income tax return, and a tax loss incurred in a given year would be deductible from income earned in five consecutive years.
- The Government's proposal would allow limited liability companies to apply up to NOK 30 million of corporate losses in 2020 against taxed profits the previous two years.

State loan guarantees for new loans to small and medium-sized enterprises

- The government has proposed to establish a state guarantee targeted at bank loans to small and medium-sized enterprises suffering losses as a result of the extraordinary situation arising from the spread of the corona virus. The initial package of NOK 50 billion will be increased if needed.

Government Bond Fund

- The Government has further proposed to reinstate the Government Bond Fund. This will contribute to increased liquidity and access to capital in the Norwegian bond market, where larger companies typically raise their funding.
- "The Government Bond Fund will provide up to NOK 50 billion, to be invested in bonds issued by Norwegian companies. This is a measure we have positive experience with from the 2008 financial crisis", says the Minister of Finance.
- The fund will be managed by Folketrygdfondet, which is the state's fund manager for the Government Pension Fund Norway.

Lower threshold to temporary lay off employees.

- A reduction in the employer payment period of 14 days notification period + 15 days of payment period to 2 days notification period and 2 days payment period. Thereafter the government take over the salary payment obligation for a period of 18 additional days calculated up to a limited up to a salary of Nok599 148. After this period the government will cover 62,4% of salary, maximum amount approximately NOK 426 000 (approx. 70% of salary)

Social security contribution –rate reduction

- To reduce costs and improve cash flow immediately, social security contribution rate will be reduced with 4 percent of the total contribution rate of 14.1% assumable for the salary payments in March and April. The payment deadline will be May 25th and the relief will have an immediate effect.
- Some areas in Norway have already have a reduced rate; it is uncertain if the same reduction applies to these areas.

- UOKiK also proposed a temporary reduction in the maximum level of non-interest costs on consumer loans; the amount of non-interest costs should not exceed 5% on loans with maturity of less than 30 days and 15% plus 6% for each year of the term for loans with maturity of more than 30 days.
- The current draft does not include the working proposal made earlier by UOKiK that consumers should be permitted to suspend the performance of a consumer loan or mortgage loan, which would release consumers from the obligation to make payments under such loans, and no interest or other fees would be charged in respect of the suspension period.

Reduction of the default interest rate

— The Decree provides for a 10 percentage points reduction in the default interest rate for underpaid or overpaid tax, so that it now becomes equal to the National Bank of Serbia ('NBS') annual reference rate. Given the current annual reference rate of the NBS, the default interest rate has been reduced from 11.75% to 1.75% per annum since 20 March 2020.

Taxpayer - specific relief

— For taxpayers who have been granted a deferred payment of the tax debt within the meaning of Articles 73-74b of the Law on Tax Procedure and Tax Administration, during the state of emergency, starting from the installment due in March 2020, the Tax Authorities will not annul the agreement with the Tax Authorities, i.e. cancel the decision on the delay of payment of the tax debt, or initiate the forced collection procedure. During this period, no default interest will be charged on the tax debt.

The set of measures is expected to be announced in April.

Serbia (2/2)

3. Measure by the National Bank of Serbia

- At the extraordinary meeting on the 12th of March, the National Bank of Serbia ('NBS') lowered the key reference rate by 50 bp to 1.75%, in response to heightened uncertainty in the international environment triggered by the spread of Covid-19, which is in line with the activities taken by other central banks worldwide.
- On the 18th of March, the NBS adopted decision imposing a moratorium on debt payments. The moratorium is envisaged for all debtors who wish to apply it (natural persons, farmers and entrepreneurs, corporates) and implies a suspension of debt payments for at least 90 days, i.e. for the duration of the emergency state declared due to the pandemic. For the duration of the emergency state, banks and lessors will not charge any default interest on past due outstanding receivables and will not initiate enforcement or enforced collection procedures, or take other legal actions to collect receivables from their clients.

Strengthen companies' liquidity through deferral of tax payments

The Riksbank is prepared to take further measures and to supply necessary liquidity

Temporary lay-offs

- The temporary lay-offs are aimed to save employments in Sweden. The employees will, during the temporary lay-offs, reduce their work hours but still receive more than 90 percent of the salary, with a cap up to SEK 44,000 per month. This means that companies that have paid into their tax account for January to March can receive repayment of the tax from the Swedish Tax Agency.

On 20 March 2020, the Federal Council approved a package of measures worth CHF 32 billion to mitigate the economic impact of the spread of the coronavirus. Taking into account the measures decided on 13 March, more than CHF 40 billion will be available. The ball is now in Parliament's court: the Finance Delegation will decide on this at the beginning of next week. The aim of these measures, which are aimed at different target groups, is to safeguard jobs, guarantee wages and support the self-employed. Measures have also been taken in the field of culture and sport to prevent bankruptcies and to cushion the financial consequences.

These new measures aim to avoid as far as possible cases of hardship and to provide, where necessary, targeted and rapid support to the persons and branches concerned by means of procedures that are as simple as possible from an administrative point of view.

Overview of measures:

Aid to undertakings in the form of liquidity (Proposed)

Affected by company closures and falling demand, many companies have less and less cash to cover their running costs, despite compensation for reduced working hours. A package of additional measures has therefore been adopted to prevent otherwise solvent companies from finding themselves in difficulty.

— Immediate assistance in the form of specific transitional credits: the Confederation will set up a guarantee programme with a volume of CHF 20 billion to ensure that affected SMEs (sole proprietorships, partnerships and legal entities) obtain transitional bank credits. This programme will be based on the existing structures of the guarantee organisations. The aim is that the companies concerned will be able to access credits of up to 10% of their turnover or up to CHF 20 million quickly and simply. Amounts up to CHF 0.5 million will be paid out immediately by the banks and will be fully covered by the federal guarantee. For amounts exceeding this ceiling, the guarantee will be reduced to 85%, which will then be subject to a brief review by the banks. Amounts up to CHF 0.5 million should cover the needs of more than 90% of the companies affected by the consequences of the coronavirus epidemic. The Federal Council, which estimates the volume of credits guaranteed by the Confederation at CHF 20 billion, will ask the Federal Chambers for an urgent commitment credit. This will be submitted to the Finance Delegation of the Federal Assembly for approval in the next few days. The broad outlines of the project will be the subject of an ordinance of necessity which will be adopted and published in the middle of next week. Only then will it be possible to answer questions from the affected companies on how to submit applications.

- Deferral of social insurance contributions: Companies affected by the crisis will be able to defer the payment of social insurance contributions temporarily and without interest. They will also be able to adjust the usual amount of advance payments made under these insurances in the event of a significant drop in the wage bill. These measures also apply to self-employed persons whose turnover has fallen. The AHV compensation funds are responsible for examining the deferral of payments and the reduction of advance payments.
- Liquidity reserve in the tax area and for suppliers to the Confederation: companies will be able to postpone payment deadlines without interest on arrears. The interest rate will be reduced to 0.0% for VAT, certain customs duties, special consumption taxes and incentive taxes between 21 March and 31 December 2020; and no default interest will be charged during this period. An identical regulation applies for direct federal tax from March 1 to December 31, 2020. Finally, the Federal Finance Administration has instructed the administrative units to check and settle creditors' invoices as quickly as possible, without waiting for payment deadlines to expire, in order to increase the liquidity of the Confederation's suppliers.
- Suspension of debt collection and bankruptcy proceedings under the Federal Debt Enforcement and Bankruptcy Act (DEBA): From 19 March to 4 April 2020 inclusive, debtors cannot be prosecuted throughout Switzerland. The Federal Council decided on the suspension of debt collection and bankruptcy proceedings at its meeting on 18 March 2020.

Extension of short-time working and simplification of procedures (Proposed)

The instrument of reduced working hours (short-time working) makes it possible to compensate for a temporary drop in activity and to preserve jobs. Today's exceptional economic situation is also hitting hard at people who work for a limited period of time or on a temporary basis, at people in a position similar to that of an employer and at people who are doing an apprenticeship. For this reason, the entitlement to compensation for reduced working hours will be extended, and it will be easier to apply for it.

- Short-time working may now also be granted to employees with a limited period of employment and to persons in the service of a temporary work organisation.
- The loss of work will also be counted for persons who are in an apprenticeship.

Switzerland (3/6)

Extension of short-time working and simplification of procedures (continued)

- Short-time work may be granted to persons who occupy a position comparable to that of an employer. This includes, for example, partners in a limited liability company (GmbH) who work for remuneration in the company. Persons who work in the company of their spouse or registered partner can also benefit from short-time working and claim a lump-sum compensation of CHF 3,320 for a full-time position.
- The waiting period (waiting period) for entitlement to short-time working, which had already been shortened, is abolished. This means that the employer will not have to assume any loss of work.
- Employees will no longer have to work overtime before they can benefit from short-time working.
- Provisions have been introduced to simplify the processing of claims and the payment of benefits in the event of short-time working as quickly as possible. For example, it will be possible to pay outstanding wages by means of an advance payment of short-time working benefits.

Compensation for loss of earnings for self-employed persons (Proposed)

- Self-employed persons who suffer a loss of earnings due to government measures to combat the coronavirus will be compensated if they are not already receiving compensation or insurance benefits. Compensation is provided in the following cases:
 - closure of schools;
 - quarantine ordered by a doctor;
 - closure of an independently managed school open to the public.
- The regulations also apply to independent artists who have suffered a loss of earnings because their engagement has been cancelled due to coronavirus control measures or because they have had to cancel an independently organised event.
- Compensation is paid on the basis of the earnings loss allowance scheme and is paid in the form of per diems. These correspond to 80% of the salary and are capped at CHF 196 per day. The number of daily allowances for self-employed persons who are in quarantine or who assume managerial duties is limited to 10 and 30 days respectively. Claims will be examined and the benefit paid out by the Old Age and Survivors Insurance (AVS) compensation funds.

Switzerland (4/6)

Earnings Loss Allowances for Employees (Proposed)

- Parents who have to interrupt their professional activity to take care of their children are entitled to compensation. The same applies in the case of interruption of work due to a quarantine ordered by a doctor. As for self-employed persons, compensation will be paid on the basis of the system of loss of earnings allowances (loss of earnings allowances for service and maternity) and paid in the form of daily allowances. These correspond to 80% of salary and are capped at CHF 196 per day. The number of daily allowances is limited to 10 for persons in quarantine.
- Culture: 280 million francs released for immediate assistance and cancellation compensation.
- The Federal Council wants to prevent lasting damage to Switzerland's cultural landscape and to maintain the country's cultural diversity. Immediate aid and compensation should help to alleviate the economic consequences of the ban on events for the cultural world (performing arts, design, film, visual arts, literature, music and museums). An initial tranche of CHF 280 million will be made available for two months. During these two months, the Confederation will discuss developments with the cantons and cultural organisations. The following measures are planned:
 - Firstly, the Confederation provides financial means to provide immediate assistance to cultural enterprises and artists: non-profit cultural enterprises (e.g. foundations) facing liquidity problems will be able to obtain interest-free repayable loans. Artists, for their part, may apply for non-repayable emergency aid for their immediate vital needs, provided that these are not covered by the new allowances paid on the basis of the allowance for loss of earnings scheme. The cantons (in the case of cultural enterprises) and the association Suisseculture Sociale (in the case of artists) are responsible for implementing this measure.
 - Secondly, cultural enterprises and artists may claim compensation from the cantons for financial loss caused in particular by the cancellation or postponement of events or the closure of establishments. This compensation will cover a maximum of 80% of the damage; the Confederation will pay half of the compensation granted by the cantons.
 - Thirdly, amateur music and theatre companies may be financially supported in covering the costs of cancelling or postponing events.

100 million francs for sports organisations (Proposed)

- Due to the cancellation of amateur or professional sports competitions and championships, the survival of sports clubs and associations as well as organisers of sporting events is at stake. In order to prevent the structures of the Swiss sports world from being undermined, the Federal Council is making the following financial assistance available:
- CHF 50 million in repayable loans to enable organisations that are active in a Swiss league and focus primarily on professional sport or that organise professional sports competitions to overcome liquidity shortages ;
- CHF 50 million in subsidies for voluntary organisations promoting mainly grassroots sport that are threatened in their existence.
- This support will be linked to the obligation for leagues and federations to take measures to ensure their liquidity levels in the event of a crisis. This obligation will be enshrined in the performance agreement that the Confederation concludes annually with Swiss Olympic.
- In addition, today's ordinance, which is valid for a maximum of six months, allows for the flexible handling of interruptions to training and further training within the framework of the Youth & Sport and Adult Sport programmes. These provisions also apply to the training courses provided by the Swiss Federal Institute of Sport in Magglingen.

Tourism and regional policy (Proposed)

- Emergency measures have already been implemented as early as February 2020 under the tourism promotion instruments. These were mainly information and advisory activities as well as measures to overcome liquidity shortages. The Confederation is strengthening its support by waiving the repayment of the outstanding balance of the additional loan granted to the Swiss Hotel Credit Corporation (SCH), which expired at the end of 2019. The SCH thus has an additional CHF 5.5 million at its disposal for loans to retroactively finance the investments of the accommodation facilities, which the latter have financed through their cash flow over the past two years.
- Within the framework of regional policy, federal loans for projects (60% of which are in the tourism sector) currently amount to around CHF 530 million. By law, the management of these loans is delegated to the cantons. In order to make more liquidity available to borrowers, the Confederation allows the cantons greater flexibility in managing the possibilities of deferring payments. This should help the ropeway sector in particular in the short term, where repayments often fall due after the winter season.

Switzerland (6/6)

Additional measures relating to the Labour Act (Proposed)

— Hospitals and clinics, in particular, are under great strain in the current situation. It is impossible for them to employ their staff in compliance with all legal provisions given their extraordinary workload and limited staff numbers. They will be allowed the greatest possible flexibility in terms of working hours and rest periods. The priority remains, however, to ensure sufficient protection for medical and nursing staff, care assistants and all other persons involved, who contribute with their valuable commitment to the management of this exceptional situation.

The approach of the Swiss tax authority concerning relief related to value added tax (VAT) reflects the following:

- To benefit from tax payment deferrals, companies must file a written request in accordance with provisions of the VAT law, and this applies to all taxpayers including foreign companies with a Swiss tax representative. All applications must be submitted by email or post. No separate procedure is currently planned.
- The Swiss tax authority is currently prioritizing the review of requests for early payments of VAT credits and is aiming for fast payment settlement.
- There are currently no separate extensions to the deadlines for VAT refund procedures planned (i.e., the deadline concerning VAT incurred in the calendar year 2019 is still 30 June 2020).

- Those who are not eligible for SSP, for example the self-employed or people earning below the Lower Earnings Limit of £118 per week, can now more easily make a claim for Universal Credit or Contributory Employment and Support Allowance:
- For the duration of the outbreak, the requirements of the Universal Credit Minimum Income Floor will be temporarily relaxed for those who have COVID-19 or are self-isolating according to government advice, ensuring self-employed claimants will receive support.
- People will be able to claim Universal Credit and access advance payments upfront without the current requirement to attend a jobcentre if they are advised to self-isolate.
- Contributory Employment and Support Allowance will be payable, at a rate of 73Mds£ a week if you are over 25, for eligible people affected by COVID-19 or self-isolating in line with advice from Day 1 of sickness, rather than Day 8.

United Kingdom (2/5)

This will provide a one-off grant of £3,000 to around 700,000 business currently eligible for SBRR or Rural Rate Relief, to help meet their ongoing business costs. For a property with a rateable value of £12,000, this is one quarter of their rateable value, or comparable to 3 months of rent.

- The scheme will launch during the w/c 23 March 2020.
- Businesses should speak to their existing bank lender(s) if they wish to access CBILS.

United Kingdom (4/5)

HMRC's Time To Pay service

- All businesses and self-employed people in financial distress, and with outstanding tax liabilities, may be eligible to receive support with their tax affairs through HMRC's Time To Pay service. These arrangements are agreed on a case-by-case basis and are tailored to individual circumstances and liabilities. These businesses can contact HMRC's new dedicated COVID-19 helpline from 11 March 2020 for advice and support. To ensure ongoing support, HMRC have made a further 2,000 experienced call handlers available to support firms and individuals when needed. Those concerned about being able to pay tax due to COVID-19, can call HMRC's dedicated helpline on 0800 0159 559.

- Changing the status of employees remains subject to existing employment law and may be subject to negotiation.
- HMRC are working urgently to set up a system for reimbursement and the intention to start payments in April..

Tax-related support for businesses (continued)

Business rates reliefs and grant funding from local authorities

- Business rates would temporarily be “scrapped” for certain business premises with a rateable value of less than £51,000; The government has now gone further and introduced a 12-month business rates holiday for all retail, hospitality, and leisure businesses in England for the 2020 to 2021 tax year. In addition, a £25,000 local authority grant would be provided to retail, hospitality, and leisure businesses operating from “smaller premises” with a rateable value between £15,000 and £51,000.

The measures announced on 22 March 2020 amount to a further AUS $66.1 billion in federal government support, bringing the total over the last two weeks to approximately AUS $189 billion, including the fiscal measures announced on 12 March 2020 and various financial liquidity support measures (including those of the Reserve Bank of Australia)—about 10% of GDP

Tax relief measures

- The tax relief measures include tax-free withdrawals from superannuation funds. The package includes one-off stimulus payments to individual taxpayers, to be made through the social security system.
- For businesses and non-profits, there are to be tax-free payments made to certain employers (to support small and medium-size businesses). The payment would be delivered as a credit in the business activity statement system.
- To accelerate business investment, the tax depreciation write-off rules are significantly expanded with an increased instant asset write-off for immediate deductions of certain asset purchases and a 50% accelerated depreciation deduction in addition to the existing depreciation deduction for certain eligible asset purchases.

Business tax measures

- The Federal Government is allowing individuals affected by the economic impacts of COVID-19 to access up to $10,000 of their superannuation savings in 2019-20 and a further $10,000 in 2020-21 ($20,000 in total). Individuals will not need to pay tax on amounts released, and the money they withdraw will not affect Centrelink or Veterans' Affairs payments

Changes to drawdown rates

- The Government is temporarily reducing superannuation minimum drawdown requirements for account-based pensions and similar products by 50 per cent for the 2019-20 and 2020-21 income years.
- This measure is intended to provide retirees with greater flexibility in how they manage their superannuation savings.

Australia (2/7)

Business tax measures

- The temporary Boosting Cash Flow for Employers is an initiative with a significantly expanded support measures for small and medium sized businesses to manage cash flow and retain employees. The support payments will also extend to not-for-profit employers (including charities).
- To accelerate business investment, the Government will significantly expand the tax depreciation write-off rules from today. Two key temporary business investment measures have been announced in the stimulus package:
 - Increasing the instant asset write-off: Eligible businesses will be able to immediately deduct purchases of eligible assets costing less than $150,000. Access to the instant asset write-off will be expanded to include all businesses with aggregated turnover of less than $500 million (up from $50 million) until 30 June 2020. The asset threshold applies on a per asset basis, which would enable businesses to immediately write-off multiple assets. The benefit will also apply to both new and second hand assets first used or installed ready for use in this timeframe
 - Business investment incentive: A temporary business investment allowance for businesses with aggregated turnover below $500 million purchasing certain new depreciable assets acquired after 12 March 2020 and first used or installed by 30 June 2021. This measure will allow a 50 per cent accelerated depreciation deduction in addition to the existing depreciation deduction. Eligible assets include those depreciable under Division 40 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. It does not apply to second hand Division 40 assets, or buildings and other capital works depreciable under Division 43.

Australia (3/7)

Restructuring

The key features of the Federal Government's insolvency-related package are:

- A temporary increase in the threshold at which creditors can issue a statutory demand on a company, and the time companies have to respond to statutory demands they receive;
- A temporary increase in the threshold for a creditor to initiate bankruptcy proceedings, an increase in the time period for debtors to respond to a bankruptcy notice, and extending the period of protection a debtor receives after making a declaration of intention to present a debtor's petition
- Temporary relief for directors from any personal liability for trading while insolvent; and
- Providing temporary flexibility in the Corporations Act 2001 to provide targeted relief for companies from provisions of the Act to deal with unforeseen events that arise as a result of the Coronavirus health crisis.

Providing more scope to respond to creditors

- A creditor issuing a statutory demand on a company is a common way for a company to enter liquidation. The Federal Government is temporarily increasing the current minimum threshold for creditors issuing a statutory demand from $2,000 to $20,000. This will apply for six months.
- The statutory timeframe for a company to respond to a statutory demand will be extended temporarily from 21 days to six months. This will apply for six months.
- The time a debtor has to respond to a bankruptcy notice will be temporarily increased from 21 days to six months.

Australia (4/7)

Restructuring

Temporary relief from directors' personal liability

Directors are personally liable if a company trades while insolvent.

Through these changes the Government is aiming to:

- Stop directors of companies, that would be ordinarily viable save for COVID-19, from electing to enter into insolvency due to the personal consequences from trading whilst insolvent;
- Enable directors to increase their focus on managing companies through the COVID-19 crisis as opposed to be concerned by the implications for their own personal positions;
- Avoid a situation whereby there are insolvencies en masse in a short space of time which, due to the sheer number of the companies in insolvency, may dilute the ability of companies to be rehabilitated. In this situation, assets may not be saleable given the sheer volume of insolvencies so may be realised for minimal value or parked away.

Agribusiness

The Federal Government's second announcement of economic stimulus measures has a distinct focus on supporting individuals, families and small-medium enterprises to continue to function business-as-usual wherever possible.

In addition to those provisions already made in Tranche 1, the Tranche 2 announcements will particularly benefit recipients of the Farm Household Allowance, small-medium sized agribusinesses and employers of apprentices and trainees (important for various downstream food processing and manufacturing sectors).

This announcement also reinforces support offered by other institutions and regulatory bodies, such as Guarantee Schemes and access to, and reduced cost of, credit.

Australia (5/7)

Filing/Payment Deadline Extension

The ATO announced a series of administrative relief measures, including:

- Deferring by up to four months the payment date of amounts due through the business activity statement (including “pay as you go” (PAYG) instalments), income tax assessments, fringe benefits tax assessments and excise.
- Allowing businesses on a quarterly reporting cycle to opt into monthly goods and services tax (GST) reporting in order to get quicker access to GST refunds to which they may be entitled.
- Allowing businesses to vary PAYG instalment amounts to zero for the April 2020 quarter. Businesses that vary their PAYG instalment to zero will also be permitted to claim a refund for any instalments made for the September 2019 and December 2019 quarters.
- Remitting any interest and penalties, incurred on or after January 23, 2020, that have been applied to tax liabilities.
- Working with affected businesses to help them pay their existing and ongoing tax liabilities by allowing them to enter into low interest payment plans.

Payroll Tax

- Tasmania announced a waiver of payroll tax for the last four months of this financial year for hospitality, tourism and seafood industry businesses; a waiver of payroll tax payments for the remaining three months from March to June 2020 for other small to medium businesses with an annual payroll of up to $5 million in Australian wages based on the immediate impact of the virus on their businesses
- New South Wales announced AU$450 million for the waiver of payroll tax for businesses with payrolls of up to AU$10 million for three months (the rest of 2019-20); and AU$56 million to bring forward the next round of payroll tax cuts by raising the threshold limit to AU$1 million in 2020-21
- Western Australia announced that Small businesses that pay payroll tax will receive a one-off grant of $17,500; AU$1 million payroll tax threshold brought forward by six months to July 1, 2020; and payroll tax payments deferral until July 21, 2020 for businesses impacted by COVID-19

- In Queensland, applications are open for a deferral of tax payment for SMEs until 31 July 2020. In addition, a business impact survey was implemented. Mentoring support (50 mentors available) and financial workshops are being delivered in several locations in Queensland to support SMEs, with an emphasis on local business communities. Sectorial support targeting tourism operators and the commercial fishing industry has also been announced in the state. Queensland offers AUD 500 million in interest free loans.
- Victoria announced a package of AUD 1.7 billion for business

Australia's government on 23 March 2020 introduced legislative packages to implement measures announced in tranches 1 and 2 of the economic response to the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic.

The tax measures included in the "Coronavirus Economic Response Package Omnibus Bill 2020" propose to:

- Increase the cost threshold below which small business entities can access an immediate deduction for depreciating assets and certain related expenditure (instant asset write-off) from $30,000 to $150,000—from 12 March 2020 to 30 June 2020
- Provide access to an instant asset write-off for entities with an aggregated turnover of $10 million or more, but less than $500 million (up from the existing cap of $50 million)
- Make the instant asset write-off available for depreciating assets and certain related expenditure costing less than $150,000—from 12 March 2020 to 30 June 2020
- Temporarily allow businesses with aggregated turnover of less than $500 million in an income year to deduct depreciation expenses at an accelerated rate subject to certain conditions
- Establish legislative authority for government spending on new measures to assist employers to retain apprentices and trainees and to provide financial assistance to participants in the Australian aviation sector

Australia (7/7)

- Allow individuals affected by the adverse economic effects of the coronavirus to have up to $10,000 released from their superannuation or retirement savings account on compassionate grounds
 - Increase the low-income threshold for individuals and families (including the dependent child-student component of the family threshold)
- Another package—the “Boosting Cash Flow for Employers (Coronavirus Economic Response Package) Bill 2020”—proposes to provide that the Commissioner of Taxation make cash-flow “boost payments” to eligible entities.

Tranche 2

The government announced further economic support measures on 22 March 2020 to further its tranche 1 stimulus package and the action taken by the Reserve Bank of Australia. The measures are designed to “cushion the economic impact of the coronavirus” and provide minimum payments for eligible small and medium-sized businesses, and not-for-profits (including charities) that employ people.

Furthermore, Australian banks announced support for SMEs through a six month break in loan repayments

Furthermore, banks are being granted extra funding to spur SME loans.

Customs/Import and Other Miscellaneous Taxes

- Announcement No. 6 clarifies that imported supplies, donated by domestic and foreign donors and used for prevention and control of the epidemic, can be exempted from import duties, import VAT, and import consumption tax. This relief is valid from January 1 to March 31, 2020. In addition, the preferential treatment also applies to supplies imported by the health administration for the outbreak, even though the supplies are not donated. Tax refunds can be obtained for qualified supplies for which taxes have already been paid.
- Circular 19 extends the February 2020 statutory tax filing deadline to February 24, 2020. This can be further extended by local tax authorities where the outbreak is identified as serious (such as in Hubei province). Affected taxpayers and withholding agents can apply for further extension. Circular 19 also encourages local tax authorities and taxpayers to deal with tax matters online or via mobile application.

Personal income tax

General information

On 25 February, the Financial Secretary announced a reduction of the profits tax by 100% (subject to a cap) and low-interest loans for SMEs, with government guarantees as part of a wider package worth HKD 18.3 billion (USD 2.3 billion). A key highlight of the measures was a full government guarantee on loans of up to HKD 2 million for every small and medium-sized enterprise, under a financing guarantee scheme and involving HKD 20 billion in total.

Some banks have come forward with liquidity relief (USD 3.9 million) for businesses affected by the outbreak. In September, a bank introduced a scheme under which SMEs could make interest-only payments for six months (one year if the loan is secured by property) since September. This was recently extended to taxi and public light bus operators as a response to the crisis. Moreover, SMEs that have opted for trade finance have the option to convert part of their loan facility into an overdraft facility for six months in order to help with their working capital needs. The bank also announced it would extend the waiving of handling fees until the end of December and would subsidise guarantee fees for SMEs applying to the government's SME Financing Guarantee Scheme until the same date.

Monetary Policy:

On 15 March, following moves by the Fed, the Hong Kong Monetary Authority lowered its countercyclical capital buffer imposed on banks to 1% from 2%, and reduced its base rate by 64 basis points to 0.86%. This freed up HKD 500 billion in capital.

Fiscal policy:

Hong Kong in early March launched a fiscal stimulus of approximately USD 1300 for each of Hong Kong's 7 million residents, as well as targeted income tax cuts and rent suspension for a portion of the population, for a total of around USD 15 billion. Hong Kong will run its first budget deficit in years, and is projected to continue to run this deficit for the coming five years at least.

The waiver is applicable for the 2018-19 year of assessment, and covers profits tax, salaries tax, and personal assessment. Taxpayers in need would be able to apply for an instalment payment plan before the due date of the respective tax payments.
- When the government announced work-from-home requirements for the public service, tax deadlines—including tax return filing, tax payment and responding to enquiries—have generally been deferred until the tax authority reopens.

Saskatchewan's Minister of Finance, Donna Harpauer, delivered a scaled-back version of the province's 2020 budget estimates on March 18, 2020. These estimates come in the wake of Saskatchewan's decision to postpone the release of its full 2020-21 provincial budget due to the COVID-19 pandemic and its related economic consequences.

The estimates anticipate government expenses of $14.15 billion in 2020, but do not provide revenue estimates. The estimates do not include any changes to the province's personal or corporate tax rates for the current year. However, this release does refer to:

- A three year extension to the non-refundable Manufacturing and Processing Exporter Tax Incentive,
- A new PST rebate for new home construction
- A new PST registration requirements for certain e-commerce platforms and new incentives to support pipelines and the chemical fertilizer sector, among other changes.

Specifically, businesses unable to file their provincial tax returns by the due date may submit a request for relief from penalty and interest charges on their affected returns. Penalty and interest waiver requests can be submitted electronically through the Saskatchewan eTax Service,

Corporate tax changes

Extension for Manufacturing and Processing Exporter Tax Incentive

- The budget estimates propose to extend the non-refundable Manufacturing and Processing Exporter Tax Incentive by three years to 2022 (from 2019). This tax credit is available to eligible corporations that expand the number of manufacturing and processing related full time employees above the number employed in 2014. Eligible businesses must derive at least 25% of revenues from the export of their manufactured goods to the rest of Canada or internationally each year, among other requirements.

Employers — Managing Tax & Legal Issues During COVID-19

Employers should ensure they take appropriate steps to manage their employee issues during the COVID-19 outbreak. During this time, employers may want to look at their options to avoid laying off employees, including considering several government programs that are in place to assist employers in this situation. In particular, the government recently announced that it would enhance some programs to assist businesses. However, in situations where employers decide to initiate temporary lay-offs, they should consider important related legal issues related to payroll and employment law. Employers who may need assistance navigating their options and requirements at this time should reach out to our team of tax and legal professionals.

Work-Sharing program

Employers who are directly or indirectly affected by a downturn in business caused by COVID-19 may want to consider whether they qualify for the federal Work-Sharing program. This program, which provides EI benefits for eligible employees as income support is designed to help eligible employers avoid layoffs during certain temporary reductions in business activity, such as the COVID-19 outbreak. To qualify, employers must generally:

- Have been in business in Canada year-round for at least two years
- Be a private business, publicly-held company or a not-for-profit organization
- Demonstrate that the shortage of work is temporary and beyond their control
- Demonstrate a recent decrease in business activity of approximately 10%
- Submit and implement a recovery plan designed to return the Work-Sharing individuals to normal working hours by the end of the program.
- The program allows employers to reduce an employee's work schedule as follows:
- The program must last between six weeks and 76 weeks (the duration of the program was recently increased from a maximum of 38 weeks as a result of COVID-19).
- A reduction between a minimum of 10% (one half day) and a maximum of 50% (three days).
- In any given week, the work reduction can vary depending on available work, as long as the work reduction on average is between 10%-60% for the duration of the program.

Supplemental unemployment benefits

Employers may also take action to top up an employee's EI Sickness Benefits. Specifically, employers may establish a Supplementary Unemployment Benefit (SUB) plan for this purpose during a period of unemployment due to a temporary layoff for, among other things, sickness. Employers considering this plan should register a qualifying SUB plan with Service Canada, or else the benefit will be treated as income, and any EI benefits received may be reduced.

Temporary layoffs — Employer obligations

Employers may choose at this time to temporarily lay off employees and cease compensation, where allowed under the relevant law. In this case, the employer and employee treat the employment relationship as ongoing, despite this interruption of the employee's work term, with the understanding the employee may resume working, in an equivalent position and on the same terms, in the future. Employers considering this course of action should remember that the rules in this area can vary significantly by province, including what constitutes a temporary layoff, how long such layoffs can last, and whether employers must provide advance notice.

Generally, layoff periods are unpaid, unless otherwise provided under an employment agreement, company policy or collective agreement. However, employees may qualify for Employment Insurance under new eligibility criteria put in place by the federal government for COVID-19. However, employees may volunteer to use vacation time they are entitled to during a temporary layoff period and continue to receive pay. In addition, most employers are not legally required to continue benefit contributions during temporary layoffs, subject to certain provincial requirements. Employers should seek legal advice to determine the obligations they must comply with for their own particular situation.

Another important consideration in this area is that many provinces have different legal requirements that apply to group/mass termination. In some cases, these rules can also apply to temporary layoffs.

Mauritius (4/5)

Particular considerations for employees (under the the Workers' Rights Act 2019)

- The employers who are “economic operators” can request their employees to leave their homes and come to work, subject to obtaining a Covid 19 Work Access Permit for their employees. For the remaining employers, employees can be requested to work from home;
- For the majority of employers who are unable to provide work to their employees, the employer shall still have to pay a full day’s remuneration;
- An employer may fix the 11 paid annual leaves of an employee earning up to MUR 50,000 as basic monthly salary, if the employer and employee are unable to agree when the statutory 22 annual leaves are to be taken. However, if the employee does not want to exhaust those paid annual leaves, the parties may agree that unpaid leaves be taken but the express consent of the employee is required;
- For employees earning more than MUR 50,000 as basic monthly salary, there is no minimum annual leaves’ entitlement, and it will therefore depend on the terms and conditions of the employment agreement;
- An employer may require an employee (irrespective of his salary threshold) to work for a shorter time than that specified in his agreement and at a reduced remuneration, subject to the approval of the supervising officer of the Ministry of Labour, Human Resource Development and Training;

Tax and Legal News

On Monday 23 March 2020, the President of South Africa announced unprecedented measures in assisting South Africa in its fight against COVID-19. Most notably, a nationwide lockdown effective for 21 days from midnight on Thursday 26th March 2020. The lockdown will be lifted at midnight on Thursday 16th April 2020.

COVID-19 – The Benefits of Tax Compliance in Unprecedented Times

This measure is aimed at preventing millions of South Africans from infection whilst saving the lives of hundreds of thousands of South Africans.

The implementation of this safeguard will have an impact on the economy and people's livelihoods. The President mentioned several mechanisms that could assist in dampening the negative economic impact that the safeguard could have, including the setup of a SOLIDARITY Response Fund which could afford organisations and individuals tax deductible donations in assisting with the fight against the COVID- 19 Epidemic. The President went on further to mention certain tax related mechanisms which could assist businesses given the financial and economic distress in these unprecedented times

Overview of measures proposed

- Tax compliant businesses with a turnover of less than ZAR 50 million will be allowed to delay 20% of their Pay-As-You-Earn (PAYE) liabilities over the next four months and to delay a portion of their provisional corporate income tax payments without penalties or interest over the next six months.
- The South African tax system will provide a tax subsidy of up to ZAR 500 per month for the next four months for those private sector employees earning below ZAR 6 500 under the Employment Tax Incentive (ETI). The South African Revenue Service (SARS) will also work towards accelerating the payment of ETI reimbursements from twice a year to monthly to get cash into the hands of compliant employers as soon as possible.
- The South African government is exploring the temporary reduction of employer and employee contributions to the Unemployment Insurance Fund (UIF) and employer contributions to the Skill Development Levy Fund (SDL contributions) and to the Commissioner for Compensation for Occupational Injuries and Disease Fund (COIDA contributions)

South Africa (4/6)

Introduction to Employer Relief Measures proposed

The details of the actual temporary relief measures are not known at this time. Any changes to the legislation require swift changes to the SARS electronic platforms and payroll software used by employers to run their payrolls.

Employment taxes

As mentioned above, the President proposed relief measures in relation to employment taxes. Employment taxes include:

- PAYE
- UIF
- SDL obligations
- Remittances by employers to the COIDA Fund.

When are the remittances payable by the employer (taxpayer)?

Every resident employer must withhold employees' tax on remuneration paid to employees by no later than the 7th day of the month following the month in which such tax amount was withheld. Where the 7th of the month falls on a public holiday, Saturday or Sunday, the payment must be received by the SARS by the preceding business day. The same payment date applies for the remittances of the UIF and SDL obligations to SARS. The payments to SARS must be accompanied by a monthly form (EMP 201). The payment of COIDA is an annual employer liability payable to the Compensation Commissioner.

What are the penalty provisions?

Currently, when PAYE, UIF and SDL payments are not received timeously by SARS, a 10% penalty in relation to the late payment and interest at prevailing rates apply. The Speech Proposals provide that employers with a turnover of ZAR50 million or less, may delay 20% of the PAYE obligations over the next four months without incurring penalties and interest.

South Africa (5/6)

What is currently reported on the EMP201 and what changes are recommended?

Currently the EMP201 form only requires the following information to be provided by the employer:

- PAYE payable
- SDL payable
- UIF payable
- ETI¹ brought forward
- ETI calculated
- ETI utilized
- ETI carried forward
- Penalty and Interest (if paid late)

UIF and SDL temporary relief measures

UIF is required to be withheld by employers in relation to a monthly remuneration value capped to ZAR 14 872.

1% of the UIF contribution is withheld from the employee's compensation and the employer makes a matching 1% contribution. It is speculated that UIF obligations will be set aside for at least four months.

The Employment Tax Incentive (ETI)

- The ETI is an incentive aimed at reducing youth unemployment by encouraging employers to hire young work seekers.
- Employers are incentivised to employ young persons (between 18-29 years of age) in terms of a cost-sharing arrangement with government, by allowing the employer to reduce the amount of PAYE it is required to pay to SARS by the amount of the ETI. This provides an immediate cash benefit to the employer.

South Africa (6/6)

What are the proposals?

- The President stated that this proposal is intended to assist businesses which may be in distress, by using the tax system to provide a tax subsidy of “up to ZAR 500 per month” for the next four months for those private sector employees earning below ZAR 6 500 under the ETI regime.
- It is not clear whether the employer will be entitled to claim an additional ZAR 500 of the ETI, per qualifying employee per month. Presently the value of the ETI which an employer may claim in relation to a “qualifying employee” varies depending on the quantum of the compensation paid by the employer to that employee. It would appear that the additional ZAR 500 saving will apply for all employees earning less than ZAR 6 500 per month.
- An employer is not eligible to claim the ETI if the employer is not compliant in respect of its tax obligations i.e. if the employer has any outstanding tax returns or an outstanding tax debt.
- Currently, qualifying employees who earn ZAR 6 500 per month or less do not pay personal income tax since their income is below the personal income tax threshold (2021 tax year threshold is ZAR 83 100).
- In addition to the above, SARS will also work towards accelerating the payment of ETI reimbursements from twice a year to monthly to facilitate the availability of cash into the hands of compliant employers as soon as possible.
- Currently, if the ETI amounts claimed on the EMP201s exceeds the employees’ tax payable as at the end of every six-month employer reconciliation period, the employer can claim a cash refund from SARS. However, if the taxpayer is not tax compliant across all taxes, the employer may not set off the ETI against the employees’ tax liability nor can the employer claim the refund.
- In practice, ETI refunds take a long time and refunds will not be paid by SARS until SARS has completed an audit of the ETI claims.
- Given the current timing delay in relation to the payment of ETI refunds, SARS would need to remove ETI system blocks and delay ETI audits to ensure that refunds will be paid out timeously.

The Government has announced a set of financial and fiscal measures to address the impact of citizen closure and to reduce the impact of the resulting activity. The total amount announced is $2,500 million. The objective of these measures is to avoid bankruptcies or permanent cessation of business activities, to maintain employment and to financially support the most highly paid and the most profitable businesses.

The objective of these measures is to avoid bankruptcies or permanent terminations of the companies' activities, to maintain employment and to financially support the most highly paid and the most successful companies.

Tax measures for all companies

All companies, whatever their size and sector of activity, have systematically benefited from the following measures:

- The extension of SI declarations until the end of May 2020, with the exception of companies subject to the SI rate of 35%.
- The suspension of all control operations and all deadlines related to tax audit procedures and deadlines for objections until the end of May 2020.
- The reduction of the time limits for the removal of the tax credit is to be achieved by speeding up the timing of the meetings of the Commission for the consideration of requests for removal by moving to a weekly instead of a fortnightly basis. Payment shall be made within a period of no more than one month.
- The revaluation of built and unbuilt property on the basis of its actual value and the exemption from capital gains tax on the revaluation of property held for sale.
- The cancellation of penalties for companies with public procurement contracts for a maximum period of 6 months.

Tunisia (2/4)

Tax measures for the most affected companies

The phrase "undertakings affected by the impact of the virus" will be defined by government decree after consultation with representatives of the Government's President's Office.

The most successful companies are allowed to take advantage of the following opportunities:

- The staggering of their tax and customs debts for a maximum period of 7 years.
- The suspension of penalties and delays in the payment of tax for a period of three months from April 1 to June 30, 2020.

- For companies that are entirely exporters operating in the agri-food and health sectors: the percentage of 30% is increased to 100%.
- For the other companies, which are all exporters, the percentage of sales on the local market increased from 30% to 50%.

Tunisia (3/4)

Direct Financial Assistance (450MD)

- A 300 million envelope for the benefit of technically unemployed workers, the first of which, according to the Finance Department's proposal, would be of interest to SMEs, with a view to strengthening the SME support fund, in addition to the implementation of the previous decision to provide a bonus of 3 points of interest.
- A 150 million envelope for the benefit of poor and special-needs families that supports family programs that require direct assistance to individuals directly affected under the supervision of the Ministry of Social Affairs.

Business Support Financial Envelopes(1700MD)

- A 500 MD envelope to increase the stock of basic products for the public sector drug, food and oil companies.
- A 500 MD guarantee line to allow private companies that are unable to obtain bank credit to maintain their business (credits granted up to the end of December 2020, over a period of 7 years with 2 years of grace). The tourism sector (hotels, travel agencies, restaurants, craftsmen, transport, culture) is particularly targeted by this MF measure.
- Three new investment funds, funded by the CDC under the MF, (700MD):
 - The first of 500 MD (of which 100 MD will be released as a first tranche) for large companies, including strategic companies, to strengthen their capital and maintain employment;
 - The second of the 100 MD is a bridging fund for the takeover of existing investment funds in companies facing difficulties in strategic sectors, so that these funds can be used to finance other projects;
 - The third part of a 100 MD fund to finance the acquisition of equipment for hospitals and public health institutions.
- This contribution from the CDC will be dependent on the financing of the Treasury, which is the main source of funds from the CSF and would oblige the State to have recourse to the financial system.

Tunisia (4/4)

Exemptions and financial support

- This measure relates to limited amounts because the source credit of the population represents a small portion of the total credit to individuals, which is 24 billion dinars. This does not pose any problems for the banks, as other individuals continue to pay back the loans.
- Deferral of bank credit repayments over 6 months for companies affected by the crisis. This measure, however, can be applied to higher amounts if it covers more than one sector.
- For example, the central risk centre has identified 67 billion Dinars in credit to companies, of which 39 billion Dinars is short term, and the carry-over must be limited to the most affected companies so as not to choke the banking system. The average liquidity requirement of the banks has fallen from 16 billion at the beginning of 2019 to 11 billion Dinars at present, and this fall over 12 months has helped to reduce inflation (from 7.3% to 5.8% in one year).
- A resumption of financing is therefore expected to allow banks to extend the maturities of affected customers, but this would be limited to 5 billion Dinars over one year, with the aim of not exceeding the level at the end of 2018, which is considered to be high and inflationary. This represents 13% of all short-term loans to companies, so the balance of the loans must be targeted at the companies most affected by the crisis.

The move takes Turkish real yields deeper into negative territory (annual inflation rate at 12.37%), which is a disadvantage for investors, but will help domestic liquidity.

The CBRT also instituted a host of emergency measures including 91-day repo auctions at a 150bps discount to the benchmark rate, a 500bps cut in FX reserve requirements that should free up $5.1bn for Turkish banks, and repayment delays for rediscount credit (FX loans to exporters) for up to 3 months that could postpone repayments of up to $7.6bn.

Fiscal policy

— Government pledged a "series of measures" but hasn't yet unveiled a figure for the potential fiscal stimulus. With debt/GDP at 32% Turkey has a lot of fiscal space, so long as international markets remain open/there is no liquidity crunch. *UPDATED MARCH 19: On March 18, Ankara unveiled a TRY100bn ($15.4bn) economic package comprising tax breaks and deferrals, as well as credit guarantees and delays in loan repayments.

European Central Bank

- The objective of the ECB through this program is to provide relief to banks in order to boost loans to businesses and households, as well as to support production and employment.
- This action is similar to that taken by the Fed in the U.S., which includes the purchase of $500 billion in T-bills and $200 billion in mortgage-backed securities to support the smooth functioning of these marketplaces.
- The ECB's Governing Council announced on Wednesday March 18 a new Pandemic Emergency Purchase Programme with an envelope of €750 billion until the end of the year, in addition to the €120 billion decided on March 12. Together this amounts to 7.3% of euro area GDP. The programme is temporary and designed to address the unprecedented situation the monetary union is facing. It is available to all jurisdictions and will remain in place until ECB assesses that the coronavirus crisis phase is over.
- The new instrument has three main advantages. First, it fits the type of shock we are facing: exogenous, detached from economic fundamentals and affecting all countries in the Euro Area. Second, it allows to intervene in the entire yield curve, preventing financial fragmentation and distortions in credit pricing. Third, it is tailored to manage the staggered progression of the virus and the uncertainty about when and where the fallout will be worst.
- This is reflected in the terms and conditions of the new programme. While the benchmark allocation across jurisdictions will continue to be the capital key of the national central banks, purchases will be conducted in a flexible manner. This allows for fluctuations in the distribution of purchase flows over time, across asset classes and among jurisdictions.
- Moreover, to the extent that some self-imposed limits might hamper action that the ECB is required to take in order to fulfil its mandate, the Governing Council will consider revising them to the extent necessary to make its action proportionate to the risks faced.
- ECB is fully prepared to increase the size of the asset purchase programmes and adjust their composition, by as much as necessary and for as long as needed. ECB will explore all options and all contingencies to support the economy through this shock.
- ECB also decided to purchase commercial papers of sufficient credit quality and to expand the eligible collateral in its refinancing operations. The aim is to reinforce the actions that ECB took last week to protect the flow of credit to companies and people.
- ECB is making available up to €3 trillion in liquidity through its refinancing operations, including at the lowest interest rate ever offered, -0.75%. Offering funds below ECB deposit facility rate allows to amplify the stimulus from negative rates and channel it directly to those who can benefit most. European banking supervisors have also freed up an estimated €120 billion of extra bank capital, which can support considerable lending capacity by euro area banks.

International Monetary Fund

International Monetary fund

- The IMF is ready to mobilise its lending capacity of USD 1,000 billion to assist its member countries.
- The IMF already has 40 outstanding arrangements with resource commitments of up to approximately USD 200 billion. About 20 other countries have also expressed interest.
- Another objective is to increase the Disaster Assistance and Response Trust Fund (ARC Trust Fund) to USD 1 billion (from USD 400 million today). This fund can help the poorest countries by providing immediate debt relief.

World Bank

- Accelerated funding envelope increased to $14 billion to support corporate and national efforts to prevent, detect and respond to the rapid spread of Covid-19.
- Depending on the duration and severity of the epidemic, the World Bank may release a second funding envelope to focus more specifically on economic and social impacts.
