Dear Sir / Madam,

We present to you the fifty-sixth edition of our Software Licensing Bulletin, which highlights details on Autodesk® Industry Collection (IC) software package – a simple package, to suit the dynamic business requirements.

Autodesk IC helps in smarter software management and effectively driving better outcomes.

- Simplifying software management: Customers will have access to the latest software, with simple control over updates and access, product enhancements for improved workflows, a unified procurement cycle and easier licence management. In turn, helping customers in receiving easy upgrades and performing better inventory management.

- Streamline the procurement process: Eliminate additional paperwork and unnecessary procurement cycles by selecting a collection that includes all the technology the end users will need.

- Optimise IT spend: Take advantage of significant cost savings when purchasing multiple Autodesk software solutions as part of a collection – giving end users access to more technology while reducing IT costs.

The collection comprises of three different packages:

- Architecture, engineering and construction collection: Some products are as follows
  - Revit®, AutoCAD® Civil 3D®, AutoCAD® etc.

- Product design and manufacturing collection: Some products are as follows
  - Inventor professional, Inventor

- Media and entertainment collection: Some products are as follows
  - Maya®, 3ds Max®

Furthermore, all the three collections come along with a 25 GB cloud storage, providing businesses on the go access.

We hope the bulletin was informative. We would be happy to arrange for any additional information that you may require on the subject. Please write to us at in-fmkpmgccsbulletin@kpmg.com, for any queries or feedback.
