

KPMG Care Tool For Social Projects:

Effective administration, monitoring and evaluation

Effective monitoring and transparent processes are fundamental to drive progress of companies in terms of long-term impact of social interventions. However, for many organisations, gathering and channelising information can be a real challenge. Often social interventions do not realise their true potential due to several challenges in project administration. A robust, integrated system can transform the way in which projects are currently managed, monitored and reported, where streamlining the key processes drives innovation and growth. KPMG Care tool for social projects can help organisations to effectively administer, monitor and evaluate social projects.

Key challenges faced by organisations

Our approach

KPMG Care Tool For Social Projects makes it easy to collect accurate data, map beneficiaries to the initiatives and allocate resources for effective impact assessment. We can help companies capture and analyse data for the effectiveness of any social initiative and track its performance.

The tool can be integrated with the existing system or even gather data from third parties, thereby automating the data-collection process. A flagging mechanism ensures that all timelines and milestones are monitored effectively. Built-in forms and processes help import data from excel entries and make the data collection more structured and simple. Our tool makes communicating meaningful information to the intended stakeholders simple by using advanced dashboard and reports. With our intuitive tool, advanced charts and data elements can be used for analysis. Dashboards give insights on baseline and targets while the interactive map allows project information to be viewed across different regions.
