

Turkish Desk at KPMG in Qatar

Qatar is one of the fastest growing economies in the region, offering unique and valuable opportunities for foreign investors across various sectors. The strong ties between Qatar and Turkey add to this for Turkish companies looking to expand overseas and provide a firm foundation for doing businesses between the two countries.

At KPMG we have been pleased to support many Turkish businesses as they set-up and operate in Qatar. Our team of Turkish, Arabic and English-speaking professionals have extensive industry knowledge in both markets and can provide hands-on and support to Turkish companies looking to set up operations in Qatar, as well as Qatari companies wishing to invest in Turkey.

We understand the complexity of setting up in a new market. Our knowledge of the tax and regulatory frameworks, and economic context in both Turkey and Qatar have enabled us to develop a full range of tailored, professional services to suit companies' needs in an integrated and timely way.

How we can support

Our Turkish speaking Senior Manager, Orhan Berberoglu, draws on his in-depth knowledge of the Turkish business environment to gain a thorough understanding of our clients' needs. He works closely with Senior Manager, Ahmad Hamza, who is an expert in establishing corporations in Qatar. Our Head of Tax, Barbara Henzen, will be a hands-on advisor for all tax-related matters in Qatar.

Together, they draw on their understanding of both the Turkish and Qatari markets to help companies anticipate, understand and manage all their commercial needs.

Once our client's businesses are established, our Turkish Desk team work closely with other professionals from KPMG in Qatar to support their ongoing needs. We appreciate that every business's journey is unique and can support from inception, throughout the growth trajectory, when developing people, performance and culture, when refining technology and operations, by helping to shape the vision for the future whilst ensuring that all accounting and regulatory requirements are fulfilled.

Why KPMG?

We provide a Turkish-speaking single point of contact to manage our relationships, delivering unparalleled services and ensuring we have a sound understanding of our clients' ongoing business needs.

Our professionals combine their experience of the Turkish market with local knowledge and work with clients to provide solutions and tailor-made deliverables to exceed their expectations.

We use our global network of firms to ensure we provide a seamless service for clients working on an international level.
