Brunei has an abundance of natural resources and excellent land, sea and air infrastructure which, when combined with its history of political and economic stability, provide an environment ideal for business and investment.

Much of the country’s wealth comes from the hydrocarbon industry but to sustain growth in the longer term, the government has committed to diversifying the economy. It has indicated it will invest in the halal industry, innovative technology and creative industry, business services, tourism and downstream oil and gas industry.

This drive to diversify is complemented by policy and regulatory reforms designed to improve the country’s investment climate. The positive impact of these reforms is noted in the World Bank’s Ease of Doing Business 2018 index where Brunei significantly improved its rankings from 72 in 2017 to 56 in 2018.

While further reforms are needed in order to strengthen the country’s competitiveness, businesses seeking growth opportunities in Southeast Asia should keep in mind Brunei’s advantages, key of which are its increasingly pro-business environment, a highly-educated workforce and proximity to emerging markets in the ASEAN region.
Brunei Darussalam is a small, prosperous, oil rich sultanate strategically located in the Southeast Asian region. This nation state has a stable government and one of the world’s highest standards of living and per capita GDP. Its excellent transport and communications infrastructure connects the nation with the rest of the world.

Stable Growth

Brunei is rich in natural resources and much of its economic growth over the last 80 years has been due to its oil and gas industry. Its main exports – crude oil, petroleum products and liquefied natural gas – are sold largely to Japan, the United States and ASEAN countries.

FROM PRODUCTION TO KNOWLEDGE-BASED ECONOMY

Brunei offers an attractive environment for businesses looking to expand into the ASEAN region. This includes 100% ownership by foreign companies; foreign investment incentives; credible and reliable co-investment partnerships available through the Strategic Development Capital Fund and government-linked companies under the Ministry of Finance; and pro-business policies such as the Brunei Competition Order 2015 which promotes a competitive business environment.

The government recognizes the need to move the economy beyond its current reliance on oil and gas. It welcomes economic and technical cooperation, as well as initiatives designed to build capacity to support Wawasan Brunei 2035, Brunei’s long-term development plan.

The government aims to position Brunei as a nation of well-educated and skilled professionals, a country that ranks among the top 10 nations in the world for quality of life and a dynamic, sustainable economy.

Political stability

- Stable political environment with the Sultan retaining absolute power
- Strict sharia law and system of government
- Balanced policies – both traditional and reforming

Young educated workforce

- Well-educated, largely English-speaking work force
- National emphasis on education, HR development in managerial and industrial skills (in particular entrepreneurial skills), and vocational and technical training to meet future workforce needs

Brunei is among the richest countries in the world and much of its wealth comes primarily from its oil and gas sectors. In the country’s tenth national development plan, the government noted that in order to realise its 2035 vision of achieving an average annual economic growth rate of 6%, it has to reduce its reliance on the oil and gas sectors which account for more than 60% of the country’s GDP and over 90% of the country’s total exports.

Towards this end, the government has set in motion a series of structural reforms that would help drive economic performance and ensure long-term sustainability. At the same time, it is looking to strengthen its pro-business environment through improving the ease of doing business in the country, promoting economic diversification and encouraging private sector development.

Brunei has also identified five areas of investment priority for the country – innovative technology and creative industry, halal industry, business services, tourism, and downstream oil & gas – and is working to position Brunei as the preferred foreign investment destination for life sciences, agri-business, ICT and services.

DIVERSIFYING FOR GROWTH

Elimination of tariffs for 100% of tariff lines among its members, Brunei Darussalam, New Zealand, Chile and Singapore

Tariff preference given based on exporter’s declaration; no application required

Concluded / signed FTAs

- Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans-Pacific Partnership
- ASEAN - Hong Kong, China Free Trade Agreement

FTA under negotiation

- Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership
